FACTS FOR FARMERS.

—The soil is the greatest enemy of the chinch bug.
—The Practical Farmer says that seed should be covered in depth in proportion to the capacity of soils to retain moisture.
—Sheep in the field seek the highest knolls for sleeping places. These are generally poor, but sheep will soon enrich them. The grass is sweeter there, and the sheep are most healthy in such localities. —St. Louis Republican.
—One of the means to be employed in the future to make of the sorghum industry a success is to get pure good seed, seed well saved, thoroughly cleaned, true to name, and that will mature at different periods to suit the convenience of the grower. —San Francisco Chronicle.
—A man can make a living out of the land by doing just exactly as his grandfather did, but he will appear in business beside his reeling and stumbling neighbor about as he would appear beside his socially if he wore his grandfather's old clothes. —Irradiated New Yorker.
—Seed is capital. The best seed, in the best soil, with the best manure, containing all, and the best elements of plant life and growth, is the best investment that can be made with a view of obtaining the best crop from the land, and it matters not what that crop is to be.

—When a farmer begins warfare upon the plantain family in his meadows and pastures he must expect a long contest, and that every point of vantage gained will be held only by vigilant effort, the final triumph to be well earned by a struggle rarely ended in the first year. —Troy Times.
—In the opinion of the Cultivator it is a mistake to fatten sows for killing after their first or second litter of pigs.
Yes, in most cases this will be a great mistake. The litters improve in size and quality as the sow grows older.
If she is a good mother, her milk will also increase until she is three or four years old, and has got all the growth of which she is capable.

—Prof. W. J. Green, of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, conducted last year a series of experiments designed to show which kinds of plant food would produce the best yields of potatoes. Without entering upon details, it may be said that the highest yield was produced from complete potato fertilizers (five hundred pounds per acre), and the next highest from stable manure, ten tons per acre.
—Chicago Journal.
—The time has passed when cheap meat production will be mainly due, as it has been, to cheap lands and food that cost little or nothing. It is likely that in a long series of years, all kinds of meat will be dearer than they have been. If feeders find it will be due less to natural advantages for which they are not responsible, than to their own skill and good management.
There is yet an immense deal to learn, as is shown at the fat stock exhibitions. —Excelsior.

AIRING THE HOUSE.

Directions for housekeepers who have faith in health giving ventilation.
As all good housekeepers know that the airing of the house is of very great importance to the health and comfort of its inmates, the attending to this task should be one of the first duties of such people.
Do not ventilate the rooms by opening all the windows, top and bottom alike, at once, as I have known some women to do, for by so doing you not only ventilate the house, but also your crude ideas of ventilation. The lower part of a window should never be opened for the purpose of ventilation, unless in very warm weather, or when wishing to air the bed covering.
The poisonous air exhaled by the inmates of the house, and, consequently, should pass out through the opening made by lowering the top sash, at the same time allowing the pure, clear air from the outside to rush into the room. There are some houses, to be sure, in which the windows do not let down from the top, leaving the ventilation of the rooms to the lifting of the lower sash.
Well, the sooner such windows are made to open both ways the better it will be for the airing of the house, which they are attached, and to the health of the people who live in it.

Many persons occupying a chamber at night sleep with the window down some inches at the top, giving as a reason that they can not sleep otherwise. This may all be very true, because they have been accustomed to do so from childhood, and having naturally strong constitutions it does them no material harm. But this way of sleeping is not advisable to any one in a climate such as ours, where on retiring we leave the weather soft and mild, and during the night wake up shivering at more covering, the consequence of a chilly, damp wind that has sprung up while we were asleep. Far better for us to ventilate the room well during the day, and depend upon the quantity of fresh air thus obtained, with the addition of what comes in at the windows, which are never shut tight, than to endanger the health of our families and ourselves by the air that comes in at night.

Before going from the chamber in the morning, lift from the bed all the covering and arrange it on chairs in such a way that the air will have free access to every part, upon the windows, then leave the room, closing the door after you. Don't dilly dally about letting the bed and mattress, but be sure it is well aired before attempting to make it, no matter if it does wait until afternoon; then turn the bed, if not too heavy, in which case shake it well, and proceed to cover as usual.
The other rooms may be ventilated by letting down the top sash of the windows, and after closing the doors letting them remain so until fully aired, unless in raw damp weather, at which time the air that comes from opening doors is, generally, all that is needed. Never open the window of a room, either top or bottom, in which there is a sick person, without first asking the advice of a physician, as in some cases, notably acute lung diseases, the least draught very often proves fatal. —Boston Budget.

FULL OF FUN.

—Tourist (to Highland sentry on a cold, frosty morning)—Sentry, are you cold with the kilt? Sentry—Na, but I'm near kilt with the cauld.—Exchange.
—"Did you take the street cars down this morning?" Inquired Fussy. "No, dear boy. The stout ones took me down town, don't you know. Hawi baw!" —Pittsburgh Dispatch.
—Pat—Yes, sir; I seed the accident myself. Reporter—Was the engineer intoxicated? Pat—Well, sir, I dunno—when I seed him his breath had entirely left his body, so I eudn't smell it, bein' dead.—Judge.
—All About Dennis.—
Dennis was the pride of his corps.
He was a very fine uniform worper.
He could play at basket.
And with his little oblique
At the contest would run up a score.
N. Y. Morning Journal.

—Brown—Why don't you spread your umbrella? Coles—Well, to tell you the truth, I'm afraid some one in the crowd will recognize it. Brown—Then why do you carry it? Coles—Afraid some one will call for it while I'm out.—N. Y. Ledger.
—Gentleman (to cigar dealer)—I have you any "Village Beauties" in stock; how are they? Dealer—First-class, sir; this last lot is an extremely fine one.
Gentleman (departing)—Thanks; you wrote that they were very poor, but I am pleased to find you were mistaken.
I am the manufacturer. Good-day.—
Tid-Bits.

—An indolent young man once asked a lady her age. "Wait while I count it," she replied. "I married at eighteen, my husband was then thirty.
Now he is twice that—then I must be thirty-six." "Is it possible?" ejaculated the other aghast at this method of feminine computation. "Well, I should never have dreamed it." —French Fun.
—From Bethany College (Kansas) we have the following: Lady teacher in arithmetical class—John, repeat avoirdupois weight. John repeats. Teacher —Repeat apothecaries' weight. John repeats. Teacher—John, with what weight would you be weighed? John —Troy weight. Teacher—Why so, John? John—Because I'm a jewel-ler's girl's son.

—"Janet," said her mother, "young Mr. Pletcher comes to the house now very frequently, and often stays very late; have you any reason to think his intentions are serious?" "I should think so," she replied, "he says he has no conversational powers, and so he wants to sing all the time, and he knows nothing but church music.
Serious? I should groan." —Burdette.
—On a house hunter—I thought you said this house was a perfect gem. Agent—Indeed it is, madam.
"Why the ceilings have no height at all." "That's so, they're low, but they are clean, madam." "And the windows are dreadfully small." "To keep the sun from fading the carpets, madam." "Yes."
"And there is no bathroom." "That's to save soap, madam." —Christian at Work.

PHYSICAL TRAINING.

The kind of Open-Air Exercise with which Girls Should be Provided.
It is not uncommon for members of the medical profession to inveigh against the most common-sense neglect of the important elements of amusement and physical training in girls' schools. That so little has been accomplished in the direction of correcting the evil is probably to be attributed to the fact that those who have treated of the subject publicly have for the most part contented themselves with portraying and condemning the existing state of things, and have made no very definite or practical proposals for remedying it. A striking example is to be found in an address lately read before the Gloucestershire Branch of the British Medical Association by Dr. Hayner W. Bates, senior physician to the Gloucester infirmary. The speaker did not restrict himself to tracing the increased prevalence of anemias and the like largely to the neglect of girls' physical education, but outlined what seems to be a very practicable and attractive scheme for providing school-girls with a due amount of operative exercise, basing the character not of a perfunctory routine, but of wholesome and invigorating sport. He would have at least two half-holidays a week devoted to games played in a large open space, and in the absence of special reasons to the contrary, every girl required to take part and to wear a suitable costume. He properly suggested on the need of varying the games, and justifies the requirement by calling attention to the lack of symmetrical development in the devoted to any one form of exercise, specifying "the contracted chest and the stoop of a mere cyclist. Among the exercises that he would have practised are swimming, fencing, cricket, football, fives and tennis, and such games of speed and endurance as prisoners' base, cross-touch, etc. Dr.
Bates thinks that the governing bodies of the higher schools should first be led to move in the matter, and he urges that it is the duty of medical men to seek by all means to influence them to do so." —N. Y. Medical Journal.

Putting on Style.

Friend—You say you are going off on a pleasure trip?
Mr. Moneybags—Yes, I'm going to Canada.
"Lower Canada?"
"Lower Canada?" Not if I know myself. Do I look like a man who accompanies with the lower class of people?
No, sir, I am going to travel in Upper Canada. I'm high-toned from the ground up. —Texas Siftings

HINTS ON TREE-PLANTING.

How Nursery Stock Should be Taken Up, Handled and Transplanted.
Many fruit trees, bushes, vines and other kinds of nursery stock are annually lost to the purchaser by lack of proper care in taking them up, handling and resetting. It is generally advisable to obtain trees, bushes, shrubs and vines from a nurseryman in one's own vicinity, providing he has the varieties one wishes to plant. He will care more for his reputation than a person who lives at a distance, and will not be likely to practice impositions on a patron who is a neighbor. The chances are that he will deal fairly, if for no higher motive than to secure trade in the future.
There are other advantages in obtaining nursery stock from home.
It can be moved from the place where it was raised to the one where it is to grow in a very short time and a long exposure to the air prevented.
It is acclimated to the region and more likely to do well on that account. A customer can choose his trees if he visits a nursery, but he can never make choice if he orders them from a distance. He can see that they are properly taken from the ground and can reject those that are injured. He can take them home in his own wagon and thus save the cost of transportation.
He can select a day for moving them when the weather is favorable for this work but unfavorable for ordinary farm operations.

As soon as trees, bushes and vines are taken from the ground their roots should be covered to protect them from the sun and wind. Mats, blankets or other kinds of coarse cloth can be used for this purpose if they are not to be exposed any great length of time. If they are to be carried a considerable distance it is better to place moss or moist hay or straw about the roots. If some of the roots are broken or otherwise injured it is best to cut them off with a sharp knife, so as to allow new rootlets to form about the wound.
A like course should be taken with injured or broken branches. It is generally best to remove some part of the top of a tree that is to be transplanted.
The loss of branches should at least correspond with the loss of root. If several of the roots have been cut off all the branches can not be properly supplied with sap. Too much wood will be evaporated through the leaves and the tree will be likely to suffer. The tree can be pruned to the best advantage when it is out of the ground. If it is very tall for its age the main stalk or leader can be shortened. If there are too many branches some of them can be removed. If the tree is very short and fat it may be insured by removing some of the lateral branches.

Novices in planting and persons who are in a hurry to have fruit and shade trees generally select large and old trees. They think that they can "gain time" by planting them. Experience has taught them that young trees are much more likely to live than old ones, that they stand transportation better, and that they become larger trees at the end of ten years. What is true of fruit trees is also true of shade and ornamental trees in this respect.
A few years ago great numbers of trees from various parts of the country were brought to Hopkinsville, and the doubtless that number of years old, were planted in parks, on boulevards and in private grounds in this city.
Some of them were so large that trucks were built specially for moving them and four horses were required to draw them.
Not unrequently $50 was paid for one of the largest trees. Nearly all of these trees, which were generally well planted and cared for, have died or are in a dying condition, while young trees planted at the same time are now their superiors in size.

It can not be expected that trees, bushes and vines will make a very rapid growth or be very productive without the most careful and judicious treatment. They should be planted in good soil, and should be placed on poor or unsuitable soil, where they receive little or no attention. Land for fruit-trees, bushes and vines should be in as good condition as that intended for corn and other cultivated crops. It should be plowed deeply and have good drainage. It should be tolerably rich, but the present use of fresh or unfermented manure in the soil is not desirable. If it is necessary to apply a fertilizer, well-rotted forest leaves or old stable manure or compost will be found to be the best.
The holes in which the roots are to be placed should be of good size, and the ground at the base of the hole should be loose by a spade or fork, so as to give the newly-planted roots a chance to grow. Only light and tolerable rich soil should be thrown about the roots.
When the hole is partially filled with fine earth a bucket of water can be used to excellent advantage to carry it about the roots. After the water has been absorbed the hole can be filled so that the ground will be level. Unless the soil thrown about the roots be made quite firm the trees will be likely to be blown out of position by the wind.
—Chicago Times.

Speed of Machine Tools.

A contemporary says that a number of experiments made recently by practical machinists give the following figures as the proper speeds at which machine tools should work: Parallel shearing machines and punching machines should work at a speed of 7-16 inch per second; turning malleable cast iron, 6-10 inch; screwing machines and screw taps, 1-15 inches; lathe for turning various steel articles, 2 inches; for turning cast iron articles, 3-5 inches; for turning articles of bronze, 6 inches. Lathes for turning wood can run at the rate of 10 inches per second, with a cutter 14 inches, and a circular saw may run about 3-15 inches per second. —Boston Budget.

efit of the Chinese residents is to be opened in New York.

This old and tried institution has had a very large attendance this winter, both of ladies and gentlemen, and no wonder, for it is one of the most thorough and reliable business colleges in the West. Prof. S. N. Currier, the principal, is thoroughly conversant with business practices and office work, as he was for 25 years connected with the wholesale business of Evansville. Every department of the college carefully conducted on practical business principles. Book-keeping, Penmanship, Business Mathematics, Correspondence, Business Forms filling, Trailing, Short-hand, Type Writing, all thoroughly taught, so that the conscientious student receives a reliable business education worth ten times the cost. Those wishing a com-

Judge W. B. Hoke will contest the majority of Louisville with Hon. Chas. D. Jacob. Both are Democrats.

O'Doherty and Bryan, the candidates for Attorney General, will meet at Owensboro next Monday for the first time since the campaign opened.

Hon. J. F. Newman, who was nominated by the Union-Labor party for Attorney General, has declined the honor on the ground that he is a Democrat.

Hon. Chas. D. Jacob, thrice elected Mayor of Louisville, is announced as a candidate for the same office, which has during the last term, been filled by P. B. Hood.

Kendrick H. Kelly and Mattie Curd, a couple of sixteen-year-old coppers from Junction City, were married at Jeffersonville Thursday. Their nurses were not with them.

John Sherman, having visited the graves of his ancestors in Connecticut, is now slowly working his way to Chicago to look upon his own grave, which was dug there in 1880.—Grayson Gazette.

Jake Kilrain has succeeded Jno. L. Sullivan to the distinguished honor of being the champion pugilist of America. He was permitted to win the Police Gazette belt without a contest by Sullivan.

If the fire-bell is rung in Leitchfield to announce the blossoming of a night-blooming cereus, it is hard to conjecture what the effect will be when that political daisy, Col. Billy O'Bradley, opens out in the town on such a serious subject as State finances.

The fiftieth anniversary of Queen Victoria's coronation was celebrated at London Tuesday with a grand and gorgeousness never before equaled in England. Hundreds of thousands of people thronged the streets and many of the crowned heads of Europe were on hand to witness the jubilee procession.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has affirmed the decision of the lower court and W. H. Lenoxx Maxwell, alias Brooks, who murdered C. A. Preller, at St. Louis, Apr. 1885, will be executed on Aug. 12. This will wind up a news item that has become a "chestnut," and rid the world of one of the most heartless murderers on record.

Dr. Heston, of Leitchfield, authorizes the announcement in the town paper that he will have the court house, bell rung to let the populace know when his night-blooming cereus is about to unfold its petals. When the people hear the bell they are to turn out immediately and see the performance, and the girls are advised to not even wait for tarly beaux.

The Prohibition State ticket does not seem to be making a ripple on the surface in this part of the State. Christian has over 3,000 Prohibitionists in her bonnet, but they are not cranks and have not renounced their party affiliations because of their views on a moral question like prohibition. Sensible men would see soon that running free masonry or religion into politics.

The unfortunate county of Muhlenberg, which owes a debt almost equal to the value of its taxable property, is in a deplorable condition with a crisis in her affairs close at hand. The attorneys for the plaintiff in the case of Merrill v. Muhlenberg county, now pending in the United States Circuit Court for the district of Kentucky, served notice on County Judge Q. B. Coleman, Saturday, that they would this week move said court to compel the judge to levy a tax on the people sufficient to pay off said debt, which the county judge is bound to do under an act of the last Legislature. This act is called by the people the "force bill" and in the event the judge makes the levy there will be lively times in Muhlenberg and the host of other bondholders will proceed to jump on the county with both feet.

TOLLIVER KILLED.

A BAND OF TWO HUNDRED MEN SUDDENLY APPEAR IN MOREHEAD

AND SURROUND CRAIG TOLLIVER'S GANG OF DESPERADOES.

Four Killed in an Attempt to Escape and Three Others Captured.

Twenty-one Lives the Cost of a Two Years Feud.

LOUISVILLE, June 23.—In Kentucky's shame the lawless county of Rowan, was this morning enacted what will, beyond all doubt, prove the thirteenth chapter in the bloodiest mountain vendetta known to the history of the State. The culmination was reached in the tragic end of four desperate men who forfeited their lives while resisting the mandates of the law. After the destruction of thousands of dollars' worth of property and, up to this writing, the loss of twenty-one lives, Rowan county can now return to peace and prosperity. Craig Tolliver, the famous desperado, was probably the immediate cause of the outrage law being vindicated. To-day's good work ended the succession of tragedies that have been enacted in that county since the beginning of the Martin-Tolliver feud, not quite two years ago, the result of which up to date has been the sending of twenty-one souls into eternity; the maiming and crippling for life of at least a score more of persons; the destruction of all social relations and of nearly the entire business interests of the county, and the bringing about of a state of LAWLESSNESS AND TERRORISM that has driven good men, with their families, away from home and friends to seek new homes in other parts of the country, where they might live without being in constant fear of their lives.

In the August, 1884, election, after a heated contest, Cook Humphreys was elected Sheriff of Rowan county by forty-seven majority over Sam Goodwin. During the canvass many animosities were engendered—the Martins ally themselves with Humphreys and the Tollivers with Goodwin's cause. Craig Tolliver, the leader of the latter faction, whose name in Kentucky has grown as notoriously familiar as was that of Jesse James in Missouri several years ago, aware, after the election, that Humphreys should never ride Rowan county as Sheriff. Since that date life after life has been offered up on the altar of hatred and bad blood with increasing frequency, despite the best efforts of judiciary and militia, backed by the strong ARM OF THE STATE GOVERNMENT. The names of the victims, in the order killed, are as follows:

Solomon Bradley, John Martin, Whit Peffer, B. Cantelie, Deputy Sheriff Dunnington, Mason Keelen, John Marlow, John Davis, Wiley Tolliver, —Witcher, Willie Logan, Ben Rayburn, John Day, Floyd Tolliver, and a party whose name is not remembered, besides the two recent victims, John B. Logan and W. H. Logan, and to-day's last, Craig Tolliver, Bud Tolliver, Jay Tolliver and Hiram Cooper.

A special to the Courier-Journal from Lexington, Ky., gives the particulars, as follows:

The news from Rowan county to-day is of the most exciting character, as it appears to be an indisputable fact that Craig Tolliver is killed and his own dismembered forever.

The news comes by a Lexington minister and others who came through Morehead to-day on the Chesapeake & Ohio train from Norfolk, Va., at about 9:30 o'clock this morning. When this train was within a few miles of Morehead it was flagged by some citizens, and when it came to a stop they informed the conductor that a bloody battle was going on in Morehead between a Sheriff's posse and the Tolliver gang, and that it would not be safe for the train to proceed until hostilities ceased. The passengers and trainmen were all very much frightened, and at their solicitation the conductor ran the train to Martin's switch, two miles and a half east of Morehead. There they remained until nearly 12 o'clock, when they were notified that the fighting was over and that the train might pass through the town with safety. The train stopped for some time at Morehead, and the passengers learned the PARTICULARS OF THE BATTLE, which appear to be about as follows: Sheriff Hogg, presumably acting under instructions from the State authorities, for he recently visited Frankfort to see Gov. Knott, has been for a week quietly organizing a very large posse of determined men in the upper part of Rowan County and in the adjoining counties for the purpose of arresting Craig Tolliver, or all the members of the Logan boys' posse who were implicated in the murder of the Logan boys some two weeks ago. Craig Tolliver has received intimations of this, but they were so vague that he supposed the party would be regulators instead of a Sheriff's posse. Tolliver and his party, consisting of about ten men, were quite vigilant, and were heavily armed to meet every eastward bound train at the depot to search for suspicious characters, and to see that no one got off at Morehead but those whom they desired.

Sheriff Hogg equipped his large party with Winchester rifles and the ammunition was secretly conveyed to his rendezvous while he was organizing the posse. Everything was ready for the move.

ON THE TOLLIVER GANG

several days ago, but as it was known that neither he nor any of his men would peacefully submit to legal arrest of any kind, it was deemed best to have the plans thoroughly matured before taking any decisive step. It was finally determined to attempt the arrests of the assassins Wednesday, June 22, in the daytime, to prevent any women, children or innocent citizens from being killed by accident. Accordingly at an early hour this morning people living on the line of the railroad within two or three miles of Morehead on each side of town were notified to stop all trains and inform the conductors what was going on in Morehead, so that the passengers and train men would not be placed in danger. Sheriff Hogg's band of resolute men, numbering probably more than two hundred, appeared suddenly at Morehead about 8 o'clock this morning. A cordon was first established around the entire town in the brush where the men could not be seen. The Sheriff then entered the town at the head of about 100 well armed men. Craig Tolliver and his ten followers

IMMEDIATELY RETREATED to the Cottage Hotel, which they had previously barricaded in such a manner as to make it quite a formidable fortification. Sheriff Hogg then notified Tolliver that he had warrants for the arrest of all the men implicated in the killing of the Logan boys and asked that they all submit peacefully to arrest under the law. Tolliver's reply was that neither he nor his men would be arrested, and that a hundred men could not take them. His party then opened fire upon the Sheriff's posse. Quite a brisk battle of musketry ensued, and the fighting was kept up probably for two hours. The only casualty for a time was a flesh wound received by one of the Sheriff's posse. The attacking party, however, were gradually drawing their lines closer around Tolliver's fortification, and the beleaguered party, finding things growing too warm, finally concluded to make A BOLD DASH FOR LIBERTY, cut their way through the Sheriff's lines, and take to the adjacent brush, which once reached would afford them a sure escape. But as they made the rush they were met by a tremendous volley which killed Craig Tolliver, Bud Tolliver, Jay Tolliver and Hiram Cooper. They were all shot through the heart and died instantly. Craig Tolliver seems to have been a general target, as he was so thoroughly riddled as to be scarcely recognizable. The other men of the gang got through safely, but as they approached the brush they were met by a volley from the outside cordon, a line of men stationed ten or twelve feet apart all around the town. This volley wounded Cato Tolliver, a 12 year old boy, and three others, all of whom were captured except Cato Tolliver, who crawled into the brush and escaped. The other three also escaped, but one was captured afterward. This brought the battle to an end, and the slain were gathered up and laid out in the street, where they were viewed by the people and the passengers from the train.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Sept. 13, 1882. Mess. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. have taken Hall's Catarrh Cure. Hall catarrh all my life; am 43 years old. Had asthma 19 years, and a dreadful cough for five years. Have taken everything; went to the Hot Springs; I have doctored with the doctors here; I have done nothing but take medicine for 19 years. When I commenced using Hall's Catarrh Cure I was almost dead. I sent for the doctor the day I got Hall's Catarrh Cure, and I told him that I would die any way and that I would try your medicine. I was very bad. I now I suffered for 9 years I could hardly breathe at times. I saw Hall's Catarrh Cure advertised in the papers and commenced taking it. I would have been under the ground to-day if it had not been for that. I have not had one bad spell of coughing since. In breathing my head feels well and I am well. It has done me a thousand dollars worth of good. There are ten of my friends, on seeing what it had done for me, taking it, and it is helping them. I only wish that every one who has catarrh, asthma, and a bad cough could see me, so that I could tell them all to take it. All that know me here know how I have suffered. (I have been here since 1858), and say to me that "I am so glad you found something that could cure you." Everyone says, "how much better you look." The doctors say they are glad I found Hall's Catarrh Cure as they could not cure me. I cannot express my gratitude to you for the good Hall's Catarrh Cure has done me. You can use as much of this letter as will do the afflicted good. Publish it to the whole world—it is all true and they should know it.

JOSEPHINE CHRISTMAN.
400 East North St.

At the election of Principal of the High School at Henderson last week, there was a lively tussle between the Clark and Posey factions. Clark had 6 friends to Posey's 5 on the board and the scheme was to defeat Posey and elect Miss. Haynes. One of Clark's friends had promised Prof. W. H. Overby, a young man of Henderson, to vote for him on the first ballot and learning of this Posey's friends elected him on the first ballot. The result was a great surprise to the outwitted Clark faction. Clark was re-instated as Superintendent of the Public Schools.

The Southern Exposition for 1887 will open at Louisville Aug. 27 and continue until Oct. 22. Col. J. M. Wright is at the head of the undertaking and is making every effort to make it a pronounced success. It will be the only exposition in the south this year and the season of the year, the location, and the character of the show all combine to assure its success. The terms of admission are as low as at the universal price of 25 cents.

"Next week we propose to inaugurate a reform in journalism, the wisdom of which we have always believed, but have not had the backbone to begin. In short, we propose to cut out about two columns of 4-line pie advertising from each page of this paper, leaving about the same amount of reading matter but putting it in a smaller space. We will tip off every semblance of the red tape so prevalent among local publishers, and turn our attention to solid facts and true enterprise. This banner will continue to be the best paper ever printed in Princeton, leaving out no matter of interest to our people and putting in no matter of useless import, either in its reading columns or among its advertisements. Next week you may look out for the sleek and neatest county paper in the State."

Editor Denton, of the Princeton Banner, makes the above announcement, but it will require an inspection of his next issue to get exactly at the meaning. We take it that his "cut out" and "tip off" mean that he will reduce the size of his paper and publish the news pointedly and succinctly, after the style adopted by the New York Sun and the South Kentucky some years ago.

HERE AND THERE.

Chickens are glutting the market at $1.75 per dozen.

W. E. Emery pays 4 1/2 cents for good lambs and 3 cents for pound for good cattle.

The opening hall at Dawson came off last night. A very large crowd attended.

Buy Eureka Coal of J. P. Gordon & Co., office Wheeler, Mills & Co. It is the best and cheapest in use.

The drought continues and tobacco will go up still more unless there is a rain within the next few days.

Mr. R. P. Stevens has put up a wooden awning in front of his store, corner 9th and Railroad streets.

We call the attention of our readers to advertisement in another column, offering for sale a valuable stock of goods in Nashville, Tenn.

A little son of Mr. T. L. Smith made a very ugly wound on one of his feet last week by letting a pair of scissors fall on it, one of the points entering and passing through the foot.

Several parties have given their names for the Mammoth Cave excursion June 30, but not enough to make up the 25 and unless others come in at once the excursion will be declared off.

Dr. H. M. Sherman, is wholesale agent for the Mexican Amole Soap Co., of Pecos, Ill., and is working up a fine wholesale trade. The soap are the best of their kind and stand at the head of the market.

A head game of base ball was played Monday between the Edwards Colored baseball club, of Clarksville, and the Hard Hitters, of this city, which resulted in a victory for the latter, by a score of 22 to 7.

Alonso Kaiser, who was employed as a baker at the Asylum a few weeks ago, was married to Miss Mary Cavannah, one of the female employees, on Wednesday and has resigned his position and returned to Louisville.

The dial of the town clock were put up Wednesday. They are about six feet in diameter and face in four directions. Mr. Vreeland, the clock man who is putting it up, will complete his work in a few days and have the big time-piece in running order.

Louise Thompson, a little two-year-old daughter of Mr. Wm. L. Thompson, died of cholera infantum Wednesday at 4 o'clock P. M., after a very brief illness. She was a very bright child and the parents have the sympathy of their many friends in this, their hour of trouble.

There have been 45 cases of measles at the Asylum and so far only two deaths—Jas. Kinchloe and David Wilson. The sick patients are at once moved to isolated buildings and given the best of treatment. There are now only one or two severe cases on hand.

The protracted meeting at the Cumberland church closed Monday night. During the meeting there were 40 conversions and 21 additions to the church. Rev. Baxter Barber, who conducted the meeting, is an evangelist of much efficiency and success. He has gone to Webster county.

There seems to have been some misunderstanding about the time of the Crofton picnic and brandance. It will come off on Saturday the 2nd day of July. A good band has been secured to play at the brandance and will also play at the ball to be given at Crofton Hall on the night of the 2nd.

Some capitalists of this city bought over 300 bushels of tobacco last February, while the weed was at its lowest, and this week sold the entire lot through the Cant & Galtier Co., to a Louisville party at a very decided advance over the prices paid. This was the largest single sale of tobacco ever made on the Hopkinsville market.

You can go on a four days trip in search of a suitable place in which to celebrate the "Glorious Fourth" this year, as the General Passenger Agent of the Chesapeake & Ohio Route has issued instructions to all agents to sell excursion tickets to all C. & O. stations July 2nd, 3rd and 4th, good to return until July 5th at one fare for the round trip.

Mr. Jas. A. Brown, a very pleasant gentleman who spent several weeks at Dawson, and went home on the 14th, died of heart disease at Owensboro last Tuesday. Mr. W. D. Leach, a consumptive from Memphis, who stopped over there a day or two in a very weak condition, also died upon his arrival at Memphis the first of this week.

Yesterday was the date for the issuance of the mandate of the Court of Appeals in the Winfree-Anderson contest. Judge Winfree will bring suit for all of the emoluments of the office since September and in order that there may be no technical hindrance to the suit it is probable that he will wait until Circuit Court meets before applying for the office.

Last Tuesday morning Mr. John L. Brasher, representative of H. B. Thomas, Louisville, left the city in a buggy for a trip through Trigg county, and when a few miles from the city the horse became unmanageable and ran away, throwing Mr. Brasher out of the buggy and spraining one of his ankles very badly. He is now at his home in the city and will remain until he is able to travel again. The buggy and harness were a total wreck. The turn-out belonged to Messrs. P. Pool & Williamson, livery men of this city.

Stonewall Jackson.

This is the subject of the lecture to be delivered by that matchless orator Geo. R. Wendling at the Opera House on to-night the 24th inst.

No person of intelligence in Hopkinsville can afford to miss this lecture, both on account of the subject, and the distinguished orator who treats it. To have not heard Wendling, with the opportunity to do so, is but to confess your lack of appreciation for all that is grand and matchless in oratory.

Beside the intellectual treat, the object of the lecture should strongly appeal to the charitable. The Masonic Widows and Orphans Home is the beneficiary, and fifty cents, the price of admission, could not be more worthily bestowed.

Opening Ball.
Corleau Springs has been waiting for the completion of the Princeton branch of the L. & N. railroad to that point, and expecting to open up with a grand blow-out July 4th. As the road will probably be delayed another month, the opening will not be longer deferred and has been set for July 8th and 9th. On the night of the 8th a grand ball will be held and on the following day a barbecue will be held and speeches will be made by Senator Beck and others. Mr. Harp has had the hotel repainted and every thing is in apple pie order for the opening. That there will be an immense crowd goes without saying, as Corleau is, as everybody knows, one of the pleasantest places in the State for seekers after either health or pleasure.

Resolutions.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors of South Kentucky College, June 9, 1887, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the Board on the resignation of President Crumbaugh.

Whereas, Maj. Crumbaugh's resignation is unconditional and irrevocable, in accepting it be it Resolved, That we accept it with regret, believing the present prosperity of the institution has been largely the result of his untiring zeal, his fine management and his executive ability.

Resolved, That in severing official relations with him we assure him of our personal esteem and official appreciation, and hope for him in future success commensurate with his ability.

HURT-OWEN.
Mr. James E. Hurt, of this city, and Miss Isabelle Owen, daughter of Mr. Robt. E. Owen, of the Sinking Fork neighborhood, were married at the residence of the bride's father last Monday afternoon, Esq. H. B. Clark officiating. The couple will return to this city to-morrow where they will live in the future.

Mr. Hurt is an industrious mechanic and his bride one of the most popular young ladies of the neighborhood in which she was raised. This marriage is the culmination of a long courtship and the best wishes of their many friends go out to them.

The New York firm having declined to accept the street railroad grant on the city's terms, the question will come up again July 5th. The parties who were given the grant are willing to build the road if the condition of keeping the streets in repair is taken out. The Hopkinsville company had this put in, but their proposition was for one day only. Mr. Sobres, attorney for the local company, informs us, however, that his people will accept a grant for both street railways and waterworks without cost to the city for water, unless it wants to take it at the fixed rates. The opportunity to have the streets kept up for 25 years is probably gone forever, on account of the neglect of the Council to strike while the iron was hot.

Monroe Gregory came to town Wednesday night for some machine repairs at the foundry and his horse ran off with the buggy about 10 o'clock. He borrowed a buggy and horse and followed and came up with his horse two or three miles from town, choked down by the roadside. The animal was released and neither horse nor buggy was much injured.

The 22nd annual state convention of the Kentucky Sunday School Union will meet in Henderson July 12-14. Sunday schools are requested to send delegates and statistics and a contribution of 1 cent for each scholar and 10 cents for each officer and teacher. The program of three days is a very interesting one. The railroad will give an excursion rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip.

"A prominent politician" tells the Louisville Commercial that the following gentlemen are five of the most intellectual men in Kentucky, viz: Bill Owens, Bill Lindsay, Bill Bradley, Bill Goodloe, Bill Breckenridge.

Here is a list of Jims equally as gifted as statesmen and orators: Jim Beck, Jim McKenzie, Jim McGreary, Jim Bryan, Jim Clay.

Also a collection of big-brained jobs: John Carlisle, John Proctor Knott, John Young Brown, John Caldwell, John Folsom.

Matt O'Doherty, Republican candidate for Lieut. Governor, failed to fill his appointments at Fulton and Paducah last week.

PEMBROKE.

Pembroke, Ky., June 22.—Thinking a few society items from our town might prove at least readable, if not interesting, is the cause of my letter.

Misses Rosa Steinlager and Ophelia Payne, who have been visiting Mrs. M. G. Miller, have returned home.

Mrs. Henry Melica and children are sojourning at Dawson, for the benefit of their health.

Mrs. R. C. Jameson is at Dawson. Hon. John Pender paid our town a flying visit last week.

The halftone Sunday afternoon proved very disastrous to the tobacco and corn crop, though very refreshing in its effects upon the atmosphere.

Rev. Dow, of Newport, Ky., preached to the Pembroke Baptist Church Sunday morning and night. The church contemplates calling him.

Mr. Will Bronaugh is engaged in putting up smoking tobacco of superior quality. Everyone knows when Mr. Bronaugh undertakes any thing it will be accomplished in first-class style.

A young man from our town on the day of the unveiling, was seen standing in front of the court house with eyes riveted upon the building, hands in his pockets, and exclaimed in unmistakable words of admiration "Sixteen stories high! ain't she a daisy?"

The attention of the trustees of our town should be called to the abundant crop of mature dog feces that almost covers the plank walks. Thinned and dew on dog feces would be injurious to delicate costumes of ladies.

The Scriptures say, marvel not, but the game of playing marbles, is indulged in by many of Pembroke's citizens.

Mr. W. D. Garnett, finding his steamery too small for working the large amount of tobacco he buys, is having a large addition made to his present one.

Owen Smith says, if no providential hindrance he intends playing, "Skip by the light of the moon," to perfection. Old folks had better keep at least one eye upon the subject.

The Remembrance of Eight Years.
THENTON, Tenn., Ky., Feb. 25, 1887.

Contentment—I had a sore on my lip for eight years. Seven different doctors attempted in vain to heal it. One gave me a small bottle for $5, which was a "cure," but it did me no good. About two years ago I became quite uneasy, as people thought I had a cancer, and I took a course of eighteen bottles of S. S. S. The result was a complete cure. The ulcer or cancer healed beautifully, leaving scarcely a perceptible scar. From that day I have been in excellent health, the specific having thoroughly cleansed my blood, increased my appetite and perfected my digestion. In a word, I feel like a new woman, and best of all, the eight year cancer is gone entirely.

Yours Sincerely,
Mrs. W. I. CANNON.

Louisville Tobacco Market.
[By Glover & Durrell.]

Sales on our market for the week just closed amounted to 3,349 hides, with receipts for the same period of 4,000 hides. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 60,802 hides. The advance in dark tobacco has been rapid this week. Common hides are 50cts higher than they were a week ago, and good hides to medium leaf have advanced $1.00 per 1000 during the week. The advance is due to outside speculation. We find it necessary to advance quotations. The following quotations fairly represent our market for dark tobacco:

Trash, $2.00 to 3.00.
Common to medium lugs $3.00 to 4.00.
Good lugs, $4.50 to 5.00.
Common to medium leaf, $4.00 to 5.00.
Good to fine leaf $5.50 to 9.00.
Leaf of extra length, $6.00 to 8.00.
Wrappery leaf, $5.00 to 10.00.

The following gentlemen have been appointed by the Governor a committee for Christian county for the organization of the Kentucky Commercial and Industrial Conference to be held at Louisville the latter part of September, viz: Chas. M. Moscham, Thos. Green, Isaac Burnett, Dr. J. D. Clardy, Chas. F. Jarrett and W. A. Wilgus. The appointees are requested to notify Young E. Allison, Louisville, Ky., Secretary, of their acceptance.

Mammoth Cave Excursion.
An excursion will be run from this place to the Cave, leaving Thursday morning, 30th, at 6 o'clock, provided as many as 25 people can be secured. The new railroad to the Cave makes the ride a pleasant one, and far more enjoyable than the old tedious stage coach. The party will arrive at the Cave at 12:25 P. M., in time for dinner, take the short route in the afternoon, the long route next day, leaving the Cave at 3:15 P. M., arriving at Hopkinsville at 8:30. Should this prove too much of a rush for some, they can remain over and return Saturday at a small additional cost at the hotel, giving more time for recreation. The entire cost of the two day's trip will be $11.35, including railroad fare, hotel, cave route and lunch in cave. If any should want to remain over another day, the additional one day fare at the hotel will be added to the $11.35. This will be an excellent opportunity for all who have never been to the Mammoth Cave to go, and a good number of both old and young are expected. Those who intend going will please leave their names at the KENTUCKIAN office in order that they may be provided for.

The Mexican Amole Toilet Soap Manufactured by Mexican Amole Soap Co., of Pecos, Ill., and Las Cruces, New Mexico.

We are in receipt of a box of this fine Toilet Soap made from the Mexican Amole Tree; it is superior to any Toilet Soap we have ever seen or used. We are informed that the Amole Soap is so called because it is made direct from the root of the Amole tree which stands at the head of the soap tree species and contains about 70 per cent of saponaceous matter. It also contains wonderful healing properties—being unequalled for washing sores, etc.

This Soap, coming as it does from the great store house of nature, is still used for generations and is still used in its crude state by the Spaniards and Mexicans, for the laundry and toilet.

The Amole Soap contains no animal fat, and is therefore free from the many objections found in other soaps. It is well known that all kinds of grease, however putrid and diseased, find their way to the Soap factory, there to be combined with powerful chemicals, then highly perfumed and thrown on the market as Toilet Soap, to become the progenitor of a thousand ills, among which is noticeable the various cutaneous diseases such as Ring Worm, Tetter, Salt Rheum, and frequently diseases of a still more serious nature.

These dangers are avoided by using Amole Soap which is cleaning and healing, softens the skin, removes pimples and all roughness, thus beautifying the complexion. Used upon the head it cleans the scalp, removes the dandruff and promotes the growth of the hair, leaving it soft and silky.

The Mexican Amole Soap Co., is one of the largest soap manufacturers in the United States, and has established an agency for the southern trade in Hopkinsville Ky. It can be procured from all Druggists and Grocers in Hopkinsville. Ask for samples free.

Use The Old Reliable.
Catarrh destroys the senses of smell, taste and hearing, rapidly becomes offensive, and often culminates in consumption and insanity. No matter what stage the disease has advanced to, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will certainly cure it. This preparation is the only sure cure for this malady in the market, yet has many testimonials. Others may fail; it never does. Your druggist sells it.

Mr. Jno. M. Stevens, agent for a school furnishing company, of Sidney Ohio, is in the city in the interest of his business.

Trouble Ahead.
When the appetite fails, and sleep is restless and unrefreshing, there is trouble ahead. The digestive organs, when healthy, crava food; the nervous system, when vigorous and tranquil, gives its possessor no anxious thoughts. A look at the digestive system should be a mere appetizer, not the nerves to be strengthened and soothed by the usual action of a sedative or narcotic. What is required is a medicine which invigorates the stomach, and promotes assimilation of food by the system, by which means the nervous system, as well as other parts of the physical organism, are strengthened. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, a medicine whose reputation is founded firmly on public confidence, and whose physicians commend for its tonic, nourishing and other properties. It is used with best results in nervous prostration, indigestion, kidney and urinary weakness, and other maladies.
